

WRITTEN DIRECTIVE SYSTEM

WILLIAMSTOWN POLICE DEPARTMENT POLICY & PROCEDURE NO.  4.20	EFFECTIVE DATE: 07/19/2022
	REVISION DATE: 07/19/2022
	REVIEW DATE: 07/19/2023

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS AND GUIDELINES

A written directive system has been established in this agency in order to inform staff of what is expected of them in the performance of their duties, to provide guidance to them in performing such duties, and to establish the basis for employee accountability and the means to fairly evaluate officer and departmental performance.

It is the purpose of the policy to define the structure and application of this department's written directive system (WDS) and provide officers and other employees with a better understanding of its importance, use, and applicability.

POLICY

It is the policy of this department to formally document the structure and component parts of the written directive system in a manner that will increase its utility and application and provide for continuity in its development.

DEFINITIONS

A. Written Directive: Written directives are position statements by or authorized through the Chief that guide or direct the actions and activities of officers. Written directives encompass all means by which this agency communicates instructions, orders and duty requirements to its members; they include Policy & Procedures, Rules & Regulations, memoranda, special orders, and personnel orders. Written directives may be issued by the Chief or those designated by the Chief of Police in this policy.

- B. Policies:* Policies summarize the department's position on specific matters. Policies are concise position statements based on underlying organizational principles, goals, values, and operational philosophies. They are designed for broad general direction and guidance, primarily designed for use by all members of the department. Policies are issued by the Chief of Police.
- C. Procedures:* Procedures build on the foundation of policy statements to provide specific guidance on required, desired, or preferred methods of operations or conduct. Procedures are more detailed instructions on means and methods for carrying out the policy directive and generally draw the boundaries of permissible officer discretion in performing specific tasks or duties. (As a practical matter, the department issues Policies & Procedures as a combined document.) Procedures are issued by the Chief of Police.
- D. Rules & Regulations:* As opposed to procedure statements that often provide officer flexibility and discretion, rules & regulations are characterized by their inflexibility. Rules & Regulations define situations where no deviations from or exceptions to agency-authorized actions are permitted. Rules and Regulations are issued by the Chief of Police under the Authority of the Select Board as per Ch. 41 Sec 97.
- E. Memoranda:* Memoranda are written communications (generally entitled "Memorandum" or "Memo") issued for the following purposes: (a) to issue information or instructions which do not warrant a formal order; (b) to direct the actions of subordinates in specific situations; (c) to explain or emphasize portions of previously issued orders; or (d) to inform officers of actions or policies of other entities. Memoranda may be issued by all personnel. Electronic mail issued for these purposes may be considered Memoranda.
- F. Special Orders:* Special Orders are temporary written orders outlining instructions covering particular situations. Special Orders are automatically canceled when their objective is achieved. Special Orders may be issued by all command staff personnel.
- G. Personnel Orders:* Personnel orders are those pertaining to such matters as assignments, change of duty, administrative matters relating to conditions of employment, and employee rights and benefits. Personnel orders are issued by the Chief of Police.

PROCEDURES

Authority to Issue Directives

The Chief of Police derives authority to issue, modify, or approve agency written directives from M.G.L. c. 41 § 97. Written Directives may be issued, revised or rescinded by the Chief of Police. Written directives that do not have an expiration date of less than one year from the time of issue shall be reviewed annually. The review must be documented.

Types of Written Directives

POLICY AND PROCEDURE:

The receipt will be maintained in the accreditation management system. Employees are expected to read a newly issued policy and procedure prior to the end of their tour of duty. Each Policy and Procedure will be formatted as follows:

Agency Mission and Values Statement: This department's overall mission statement and the values adopted by the department form the foundation for policy, procedures, rules and other written directives.

Policy and Procedure Statements: These are individual statements of department policy and accompanying procedures with regard to duties, responsibilities, and tasks of department officers and civilian personnel. Each policy and procedure statement may contain some or all of the following information:

General Considerations and Guidelines: A statement of the issues likely to confront officers and the reasons for the adoption of the policy and procedure. The policy will be introduced by a succinct statement concerning what the policy is about and what it is attempting to relate.

Definitions: New or unfamiliar terms or words will be defined. This includes new, uncommon, or unusual terms, expressions, and phrases, including words or phrases used in law or not generally used in the police profession.

Policy: The policy statement identifies a problem, need or issue and provides guiding principles for exercising judgment. Rather than providing officers with precise guidance as found in procedures, the policy statement establishes the rationale and overall approach to a problem, situation, issue or concern. As such, it often draws upon the agency's philosophy and values to provide direction.

Procedures: Procedures will be included in each policy statement to the degree necessary to provide officers with sufficient guidance to carry out the policy in accordance with agency requirements and desires. Procedures provide a method for performing an operation or means for proceeding on a course of action. Policies and procedures shall be issued to each employee.

Policy Number: The policy number is the decimal or other number identifying the sequential placement of the policy in the manual.

Effective Date: The effective date indicates the date the policy will be placed in force.

Review/Revision Date: The date the directive is due for annual review.
